

WEST SIDE

THE MUCK TRAIL.

Court Was Held by Members of the Chi Upsilon.

The mock trial conducted by the Chi Upsilon society of the Washington Street Presbyterian church last evening was a decided success. After the regular business of the society the entertainment committee took charge of the meeting. Professor D. A. Stone was on trial for the larceny of one or more bricks from the old church. President George Waters acted as judge. The defendant was brought before the court by Sheriff Horace Keen. After the Clerk of the Courts Artemus Morse read the charge. Prosecuting Attorney Maurice Miller opened for the prosecution. James Griffiths was the first witness called. He testified to seeing Professor Stone take the bricks from the church.

The cross examination by Defending Attorney D. L. Morgan caused much merriment. C. P. Hays and Arch Mears were the next witnesses called, after which the prosecution rested. Attorney Morgan opened for the defense by calling Frank Thornton to the witness stand, followed by Thomas Patten and Fred Reitenauer.

After a fair charge by the judge, the case was given to the jury which consisted of Rev. D. W. Skellenger, C. J. Holma, C. C. Battenberg, William Reitenauer, Arthur Clark, George Keen. After a consultation the jury returned stating they stood four to two in favor of conviction.

Sprague had been engaged to lecture on the lives and chief productions of the poets Milton and Goldsmith. The lectures will take place in a centrally located building, commencing next Monday night, and continuing until the series of six lectures are completed.

Petitions can be signed at the different West Side drug stores or by consulting the members of the society's committee, C. E. Daniels and W. Hady Evans.

Davis and Louis Howell. On the negative side: Wallace Moser, John House and Emerson D. Oren. The debate was interesting throughout. The judges as appointed by President Edwards were W. A. Price, Leslie Lewis and Jonathan Harris. They returned a verdict in favor of the affirmative.

SOUTH SIDE.

AN ENTERPRISING SOUTH SIDER.

Ferdinand Hagen, of Alder Street, in a New Line of Business.

Ferdinand Hagen, of Alder street, has purchased four improved planing machines which are set up and in operation in his planing mill by which he is enabled to manufacture boxes for the bottling trade. It is the only shop nearer than Albany that manufactures these boxes.

Some time ago Mr. Hagen attempted to interest the South Side board of trade in materially assisting him to make it a local industry, but ultimately without their assistance he undertook the task on his own responsibility, the success resulting has fully justified his foresight.

This is a matter of public interest to the South Side as it furnishes work to a score or more of wood finishers and Scranton money, which heretofore went to Albany and other points distant, now circulates in the city among our own people.

Last week Mr. Hagen purchased 40,000 feet of pine lumber for the fall season.

CLOSING OF THE MILLS.

A Serious Question Stares South Siders in the Face.

With the suspension of operations at the North and South works after tonight at least fifteen hundred men and boys will be thrown out of work. It is a most serious matter to contemplate, since there is no telling when trade will be resumed.

The management of the mills is on record as stating that the rails manufactured for many months past have not been sold, that the yards have been stocked up with the output until it is no longer possible to continue in that way. Therefore, unless small orders are placed with the mills hereafter instead of starting up the mills to fill them the stock in trade will be drawn upon.

As the winter approaches it forebadows under the circumstance a condition among the people of the South Side that assumes an alarming phase. Naturally the question arises, where will the men be thrown out of employment find work?
